FALAFEL

250 g dried chickpeas (8.8 oz)
(soaked in water overnight)

1 onion, chopped

2 cloves of garlic

1 handful fresh parsley

1 handful fresh coriander / cilantro
(optional)

1 tsp cumin seeds

1 tsp coriander seeds

1 tsp sesame seeds

1 tsp tahini (optional)

zest of 1/2 bio lemon

1 tbsp Ribella natural Hummus

1/4 tsp ground chili

2-3- tbsp coconut flour (or chickpeas flour)

40 ml olive oil (for frying)

250 ml vegetable oil (for frying)

1/2 tsp baking powder

FALAFEL INGREDIENTS

Place drained chickpeas, chopped onion, garlic, parsley, cilantro (optional), cumin seeds, coriander seeds, sesame seeds, tahini (optional), lemon zest, pinch of salt, Ribella Hummus, chili powder, coconut flour (or chickpeas flour) and baking powder in a blender. Blitz until you get a nice, sticky mixture with small grains still visible. Scoop out the falafel mixture and shape into small balls (or discs). The recipe should make around 16 balls (approx. 40g / 1.4 oz each).

DEEP FRY OR PAN FRY

Place a large skillet with oils over medium-high heat. Once the oil is hot, approx. 180 C / 350 F (lightly sizzling), carefully drop the falafel balls into the oil. If necessary, work in batches. Fry for about 4 - 6 minutes or until nice, golden-brown and super crispy on the outside. Transfer to a plate covered with paper towels to drain any excess fat. If you will decide not to deep-fry the falafel, you can pan-fry them as well. In that case, place a skillet with 2 tbsp of oil over medium-high heat. Add the falafel balls and cook for about 10 minutes, turning occasionally.

HUMMUS YOGURT SAUCE

Combine all the ingredients in a bowl to get a nice, silky sauce. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Keep refrigerated until needed.

SERVE

If time allows you, make homemade skillet flatbread, it's the best. Other good options are pita bread or even tortillas. You will need 4 flatbreads. Spread 2 tbsp of hummus over each
